

The American Legacy Foundation® and Women's Policy, Inc.

in cooperation with

Reps. Lois Capps and Cathy McMorris Rodgers
Co-Chairs, Congressional Caucus for Women's Issues

and

Reps. Jan Schakowsky and Mary Fallin
Vice-Chairs, Congressional Caucus for Women's Issues

invite you to attend

Hey Baby, Have We Really Come a Long Way?
Young Women, Smoking and Other Risky Health Behaviors

Wednesday, May 9, 2007

12:00-1:30 p.m.

345 Cannon House Office Building (Cannon Caucus Room)

SPEAKERS

Sara Austin, Features Director, Self Magazine, will discuss how Self Magazine, one of the nation's largest women's health, fitness and beauty magazines, addresses major national health issues that young women face today.

Sue Foster, MSW, Vice-President and Director of Policy Research and Analysis, Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse (CASA), Columbia University, will outline the results of "Women under the Influence," CASA's recent report on binge drinking and drug abuse among college-age women.

Cheryl G. Heaton, Dr. P.H., President and CEO, American Legacy Foundation, will speak about smoking rates among younger women, the influences of media, and the glamorization of smoking.

Tracy Reese, Fashion Designer, Tracy Reese Designs, will discuss her efforts to de-glamorize smoking in the fashion industry.

Please RSVP to Women's Policy, Inc. by Friday, May 4, by faxing this form to (202) 554-2346, calling us at (202) 554-2323, or e-mailing suellen@womenspolicy.org.

Name _____

Phone _____

Title _____

Vegetarian Preference _____

Office _____

This briefing was made possible through a grant from the American Legacy Foundation.