

Women's Congressional Policy Institute

in cooperation with

Congresswomen Madeleine Dean and Jenniffer González-Colón

Co-Chairs, Congressional Caucus for Women's Issues

and

Congresswomen Lucy McBath and Kat Cammack

Vice-Chairs, Congressional Caucus for Women's Issues

Invite you to a virtual briefing:

The Impact of the Pandemic on Caregiving and Working Women

Tuesday, November 16, 2021
12–1 p.m. ET

SPEAKERS

Kerri Nelson, Ph.D, Lead Researcher, Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM), who will speak about the most recent data on caregiving and women in the workforce.

Rhonda Richards, Senior Legislative Representative, AARP, who will speak on elder care issues and how caregiving responsibilities affect working women.

Lynette Fraga, Ph.D, Chief Executive Officer, Child Care Aware of America, who will speak about child care during the pandemic and key issues federal policymakers should consider.

This event was made possible by the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) and AARP

Please click below to RSVP.

Attendance is possible only with an advance RSVP to ensure the security of the virtual event.

Click Here to Register